

ALIBI FOUNDATIONS LAID IN HALL-MILLS DEFENSE

Three Defendants Will Take Stand; Court Given Geography Lesson With Map of Crime Scene

SOMERVILLE (N. J.) Nov. 19. (AP)—Announcement that the three defendants will testify and that their attorneys expect to establish an alibi for each, was made in the opening of the case for the defense in the Hall-Mills trial here today. The announcement came on the heels of the closing of the State's case, at the afternoon session of the court, after seven witnesses during the day had increased the total for the thirteen court days to eighty-four.

Henry Stevens, who is charged with the murder of Mrs. William Stevens, and his brother, William Stevens, and his sister, Mrs. Frances Noel Stevens, were the first to take the stand. They were followed by the State's witnesses, who were given a geography lesson by the State's attorney, who showed a map of the crime scene.

LIKE OLD SCHOOLMASTER - The defense expectations were outlined by Clarence E. Case this afternoon in a forty-five-minute presentation to the jury. Illustrating his address by a large map of the Stevens' Lane and vicinity, the defense lawyer used a long common school pointer to indicate the crime scene. Under the bodies were found, under a tree, where Mrs. Jane Gibson, the State's star witness, says she saw the murder, Phillips' Lane and other names made familiar by the trial.

Mr. Case, with spectacles resting on the end of his nose, looked like a well-to-do schoolmaster as he pointed to the map.

As soon as the State rested, the defense produced its map. It was pinned to the wall near the jury and Justice Charles W. Parker, presiding, took a seat among counsel to get an unobstructed view of the map. The representation of the now famed Stevens' Lane. The jury also showed renewed interest.

"We will show you what is known as an alibi for each of the defendants," declared Case in his opening address. "We will prove to you that each defendant was elsewhere at the time this crime was committed."

SUMMARIZES CASE - Henry Stevens was at his home in Leavitt, he said, and William Stevens and Mrs. Hall were at their New Brunswick home until an early hour in the morning, when Mrs. Hall, awakened by him, visited the church to see if he could have fallen asleep there.

The husband had told Mrs. Hall, the lawyer pointed out, on leaving home that he was going to "see about Mrs. Mills' hospital bill," and when the church was closed, he had returned to his home. Mrs. Hall and William Stevens continued to the Mills' home to find it also dark. In addition to establishing an alibi for the three defendants, Case said, it was asserted that an alibi will be set up also for Henry Carpenter, cousin of the defendants, held in jail here under indictment on the same charges of murder, but not tried with them. It will be shown, Case said, that he was the guest of friends in New Brunswick at the time the crime was committed.

"None of the defendants was there," said Mr. Case. "None knew anything about it."

Henry Stevens did not know of the existence of such a person as Mrs. Mills, his lawyer said. He was a young man of 21, who did not come into his life.

Mrs. Hall had no thought that Mrs. Mills had any place in her husband's heart other than as an earnest church worker, said Mr. Case. He pictured Mrs. Hall as living her husband's life and thinking that he lived here. "He was to her," he said, "the perfect husband to the day of his death and for years after."

An attack was made in the address on the State's contention that the fingerprint of William Stevens appears on a calling card of Mr. Hall found near his body. "We show you," Mr. Case told the jury, "that the whole card business is bogus; you will find that it is not the fingerprint of William Stevens."

ATTORNEYS ARGUE - The defense made a motion, as soon as the State rested its case, that testimony as to fingerprints in connection with a calling card of Mr. Hall found near his body, which the State introduced, bears the print of the left index finger of William Stevens, be stricken from the record. The jury was taken from the room while for-

UNNATURAL HATE FEATURES CASE

Woman's Mother Refuses to Visit Daughter Reported to be in Dying Condition

SOMERVILLE (N. J.) Nov. 19. (Exclusive)—Strangest of the many strange things revealed in the drama of the Hall-Mills case is the spectacle of an aged mother cherishing an abnormal hate for her own daughter, a hate so bitter that not even her daughter's imminent death defers it.

Mrs. Salome Carrenner, 74 years of age, and her daughter, Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," are the subjects in this case of unnatural hate.

Carrenner is aligned with the defense waiting to be called to break down her daughter's credibility as the State's star witness.

"Your daughter is dying," Mrs. Carrenner was told. "Will you visit her?"

"Dying? No, she isn't. Let her die! I won't even look at her corpse!"

"I hate her because she has lied about me—because she has never been a real daughter to me. I don't care if she is dying."

his subject and apparently placed his unwhiskered face near the microphone, settling down for a good talk.

"Look here," he remarked enthusiastically, "this is for an idea and a whisper, almost certainly, that the prize money is being distributed, but radical changes in the existing regulations are known to have been recommended."

The study, among other things, is understood to contain a scheme for the transfer of officers from the grade of lieutenant-colonel and up to the reserve classification when they have served a prescribed period in the active service and have failed to qualify for promotion to the next higher grade. Officers affected by this provision would be allowed a fraction of the regular pay and be given honorary promotion at the time of their transfer.

Death Summons Friend of Late Queen Victoria

LONDON, Nov. 19. (Exclusive)—The Duchess of St. Albans, the second great lady in English society to die in two days, passed away yesterday at her home in the south of France, and was the last of the late Queen Victoria.

The Duke of St. Albans, deceased from Charles II and Nell Gwynn shared with royalty the exclusive privilege of driving in Rotten Row, by virtue of the office of Hereditary Grand Falconer of England, conferred by royal warrant on his father.

The present Duke of St. Albans is mentally ill and has been under restraint for many years. He is the son of the late Duke, Lord Osborne de Vere.

Young Lieutenants Hoping to Move Up Notch

Recommendations Will be Given Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Escape by the Army from approaching prospects of overboarded captains and majors is planned in a promotion study just completed by a special War Department committee and approved by the general staff. It will be transmitted to Congress in the form of a legislative recommendation.

Congress called for a report on the army-promotion situation at the last session, and officers in the lower grades are hopeful that the next session will clear the way for them to step up a grade or two before they are retired on account of age in their present rank.

Secretary Davis is studying the proposal, and was out yesterday with Representative W. Frank James of Michigan, acting chairman of the House Military Committee. Just what means of escape the special committee has devised is not known, but radical changes in the existing regulations are known to have been recommended.

Mode Wineman's "Stills" of Yosemite Applauded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (Exclusive)—There is no use to die until one desires to live no longer, as death is due only to the feeble exertion of man's will.

So declares Mrs. Charles T. Nichols of this city, a woman 50 years of age who today entered on an experiment which she asserts will be a culmination of five years study on her part and which will prove to the world the truth of her statement.

Mrs. Nichols' experiment, which she calls physical regeneration, will last for six months. On May 19, 1927, she will emerge as from a chrysalis, she says. Her wrinkles will be gone, her face staid with the glow of health and her eyes bright, while her general appearance will be that of a woman of 35.

Thus Mrs. Nichols expects to roll back the scroll of time.

While I cannot prove to the more incredulous that I can live as long as I desire by a demonstration covering only six months, I can show them the way to eternal life on this planet," she declares. "It is all in the mental vibrations. One develops and exercises. If one learns the secret of developing the highest vibration, then mind is absolute master of the body," she declares.

Her experiments will be watched with interest by scientists in this country and Europe. Fastening physical and mental exercises, as well as psychic secrets, will be a part of her formula.

Mrs. Nichols recently became known as the "famous bandit's mother." She wrote a series of articles on child culture based on the experiences of her 16-year-old daughter, Beulah, who recently brought disgrace to her home by robbing an aged man, taking his clothing and setting out to see the world, garbed as a man.

Kin Greet Heir Released From Italian Prison

Gift' Ends ANGELENO'S BALM SUIT

Divorcee Given $500 for Christmas and Ends Action for $50,000 Damages

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19. (Exclusive)—Harry Lally, 73-year-old millionaire, has settled the $50,000 breach-of-promise suit brought against him by his sweetheart of eleven years, Mrs. Katherine McLoughlin, 50-year-old Los Angeles divorcee.

Through his attorney, Maurice W. Carey, Lally admitted the settlement of the suit, the gift of $500 to be as a Christmas present, the signing of the releases by her attorneys and the return of Mrs. McLoughlin and Lally to friendly relations.

"Lally found the publicity in connection with this suit very obnoxious and did not originally desire to contest the action," said Carey.

The breach-of-promise suit brought by Mrs. McLoughlin approximately a year ago occupied much attention and a number of affectionate letters and poems written by Lally to "Katherine" were made public. Lally admitted the love affair but denied ever having proposed marriage, according to Mrs. McLoughlin's claim.

Claims Everyone Can Now Have Good Health

Los Angeles Business Man Suffering Months From Constipation, Indigestion and Run-Down Condition Regains Health with Tanlac

Mr. Harry Franklin, a well-known Los Angeles manufacturer with offices at 218 Broadway, says: "My experience proves that nearly everyone can now have good health. After many months of indigestion and constipation, months that ended by my being in a badly run-down condition, I regained good health, new strength and calm nerves."

Thanks to Tanlac.

"Imagine not being able to eat without suffering from tormenting pains and the burning sensation of indigestion. The poison caused by sluggish liver and constipation ravaging my system, left me tired and drabby all the time, with no energy for my work."

"Then I turned to Tanlac, determined to give it a fair trial. From the first bottle it helped me. Within a few weeks I was eating and drinking with more energy than I had known in months. I feel that I could eat nails without harm—I am so built up in every way."

"I now enjoy robust health and work all day at top speed without tiring. But I have not stopped taking Tanlac, for it is the one way to continued good health, to top strength and energy. My wife, too, keeps up the treatment, and you grow stronger, healthier, more robust. Don't neglect your health, don't suffer from pain needlessly, begin taking this wonderful tonic now, and your drabness for Tanlac—today!"

one should take this wonderful tonic.

Tanlac has helped thousands of Californians. It is Nature's own remedy made from roots, herbs and berries according to the famous Tanlac formula. The first bottle usually brings wonderful relief from pain. Keep up the treatment, and you grow stronger, healthier, more robust. Don't neglect your health, don't suffer from pain needlessly, begin taking this wonderful tonic now, and your drabness for Tanlac—today!"

ANNULMENT GIVEN DUKE HELD BLOW

Anglican Church Leaders Fear Marlborough Case Weakens Marriage Tie

LONDON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Annulment by the Catholic Church of the Episcopal marriage of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough continues under discussion here by representatives of the Church of England.

The annulment is regarded as inimical to the sanctity of the marriage tie.

The Right Rev. Dr. E. A. Burroughs, bishop of Ripon in an address to the National Assembly of the Church of England, said:

"Although the question to which I refer will not receive official notice by this assembly, I think it not unfit to make a passing reference to it to an incident which is calculated to deal a further blow to the stability of Christian marriage and is an insult, whether calculated or otherwise, to the old communion to which we are proud to belong."

The assembly cheered the utterance of the bishop, but nothing further was said on the subject.

The Church Times, representing the right wing of the Church of England, which is endeavoring to effect a union between the Anglican and Catholic churches, comments as follows:

"Assuming the marriage was effected by duress on one party, it cannot be denied it is invalid. On this point, however, the protests of the bishops of the diocese in which the ceremony is performed must be considered. (This reference was to statements by Bishop Manning of New York, Episcopal.)

"In any case, the persons had lived together many years, children had been born, and to re-open the case so many years afterward seems hardly equitable. We deeply regret that the decree of annulment was made. We feel it has done much to weaken the sanctity of the marriage tie."

Build your Home and your Fortune in Palos Verdes Estates

IN TEN YEARS Los Angeles has grown over 1200% in the direction of its Harbor. Geographically speaking, Palos Verdes is actually the focal point of this expansion.

A home site in this exclusive seaside community provides you with your ideal location, your ideal scenery, your ideal environment for all time because Palos Verdes is restricted forever as a residential community and is protected against all and every kind of commercial disfigurement.

Available ocean front property in the Los Angeles area is now alarmingly scarce and prices are skyrocketing everywhere.

—yet a home site here—including a championship golf links, school, bridge trails, parks, playing fields, etc., and 4 1/2 miles of protected shore line—costs no more than the average city lot.

BUY NOW!

Thanksgiving Dinner
A special Thanksgiving Dinner will be served at the Palos Verdes Hotel on Thursday, November 25th, at 12:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. The menu is as follows: Turkey, Ham, Dressing, Gravy, Potatoes, Green Beans, Carrots, Apples, and Pumpkin Pie. The cost is $2.50 per person. Reservations should be made by November 20th.

Following Through on the Day's News With Times Photographers

And Speaking of Beauty Champions, consider Ruby McCoy, shown above with a few of the cups she has won as a redhead queen. And, strange as it may seem, Ruby, who is cigarette girl at the Montmartre Cafe in Hollywood, is not in the movies.

Another of Brutal Man's Industrial Fields is being invaded in England by the adjacent sex. In London a school has been established where women are taught the art of butchering. Photo shows some of the students getting the low down on the proper manner of taking steaks and cutlets from the carcass. (Herbert Photos, Inc.)

It's All Bunk, says Marylyn Miller, screen and stage star, in comment on her reported intention of divorcing Jack Pickford. All's well in this particular Pickford family, so far as Marylyn is concerned. (P. & A. photo.)

Oldest Professor at Yale University is Prof. A. E. Merrill (above), who is one of the world's outstanding authorities on words. The dictionary, to which he has contributed liberally, is his bible. (Herbert Photos, Inc.)

Fashion Hints for Fastidious Women—The Spanish shawl, which regained popularity last year, is even more popular this season. Betty Blair of the Venice Pleasure Pier is displaying the latest wrinkle in the shawl line. At right, a winter coat of American design for sport and business wear. (P. & A. and Herbert Photos, Inc., photos.)

Four Kings and a Couple of Queens Don't Often Get Together in poker that's on the up-and-up, but they got together a few days ago in Stockholm, Sweden, on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Astrid. They are (1) King Christian Olav of Denmark; (2) King Albert of Belgium; (3) King Gustav of Sweden; (4) King Haakon of Norway; (5) Queen Elizabeth of Belgium; (6) Queen Alexandria of Denmark; (7) Prince Olaf of Sweden; (8) Prince Gustav of Sweden; (9) Princess Astrid, and (10) Prince Leopold. (P. & A. photo.)

BY PAUL LOWRY
"Times" Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19. (Exclusively)—The first rain battle since 1919 is in prospect when California and Stanford clash in their annual big game in the California Memorial Stadium tomorrow afternoon. An inch of rain fell today, more is predicted for tonight, and a general forecast is for plenty tomorrow.
But the only thing gloomy about this football classic is the weather. It is a forecast of a 7-2 victory over the fact that their team is expected to win by four or five touchdowns. California men expect to outscore Stanford eleven to six. Busting in the crowded hotel is over nothing but the big game.
There will be no distinction in the size of the crowd because of the dampness. A total of 18,571 men have been sold, and for every one given up there are three applicants. With more than 100,000 guards, etc., standing the huge crowd there will be about 80,000 persons in the big bowl. And on "Tight" will fill the stadium, which overlooks the stadium, again has been sold off for 4000 cash customers at $1.25 per head.
In past years no charge was made in parking your feet on the hill, but now the California management has decided to let a fine line of revenue slip by, and instead of a ticket window. This is the only spot that will be affected by the rain. It is not ranked as first-class seats, although some people do not do anything to see a football game.
The first time in many a year that the Golden Bear. The odds are as high as 8 to 1 on the Cards to win, and even money they will score points.

Best favoritism shown out of any of facts to back it up. Stanford has its best team in California.

LA BARBA VICTOR IN LYNCH GO

Flyweight King Wins in Fourth When Ring Foe is Disqualified for Holding

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Fidel La Barba, flyweight champion, beat California Joe Lynch in less than four rounds of a scheduled ten-round main event at Dreamland Rink tonight. Lynch, who was beaten all the way, persisted in holding and Referee Toby Irwin, after warning the local man several times, stopped the fight and gave the decision to La Barba.

It was a poor fight from start to finish. Lynch refused to do any leading and held so much during the short bout that La Barba had very little chance to do what he could do. Lynch may have been weakened by making the weight, but it was no excuse. The champion used lightning left hook to advantage, alternating a vicious two-handed body attack.

La Barba's title was not at stake as Lynch weighed in over the 112-pound limit.

POMONA BATTLES OXY; BRUINS MEET CALTECH

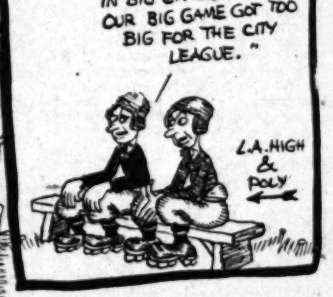

Sagehens and Engineers Out to Ruin Title Hopes of Foes

Those who like their football seasoned with a dash of ancient rivalry are herewith urged to go forth in a body this afternoon to Patterson Field, where the Pomona and Occidental eleven will collide in one of their annual battles that have been known to make weak women wild, as it were.

These annual Oxy-Pomona tussles are not considered the "big game" of the Southern California Conference and, compared to them, a Kentucky feud takes on the appearance of a pillow fight in the girls' dormitory. To a conscientious Sagehen there is nothing so repulsive as a Tiger bearing Occidental stripes, while a Sagehen is to a patriotic Bengal rooster what an ordinary alley cat is to a biology student—merely something to be dissected without the aid of an anesthetic and with a gridiron for the laboratory. To get down to brass tacks, the Sagehens and the Tigers don't like each other, and they do their best to show it when they are given the opportunity.

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

There is no reason to believe that there will be any let-up today in the animosity that these ancient rivals have for each other. This fact, coupled with the general impression that the Sagehen and Bengal elevens are about as evenly matched as a couple of St. Ford's traffic congesters, ought to make for a battle that will be worth going farther than Eagle Rock to witness.

TOD MORGAN HAMMERS HIS WAY TO VICTORY OVER DUANE

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Tod Morgan, brilliant junior lightweight champion from the Pacific Coast, hammered Carl Duane, New York Italian, into defeat in a thrilling fifteen-round slugfest tonight.

The challenger battled Morgan on even terms for the first three rounds, but then he was out of his mind. Morgan's punches were like a sledgehammer, and he was able to score heavily in the last milling, although a right-hand smash to the jaw shook Duane slightly near the end of the third round.

Morgan misted freely with Duane in the fast exchanges that marked the fourth round and slowed his challenger with solid right hands and knife-like jabs to the head in the fifth. Duane tore into the champion with a swinging two-fisted attack in the sixth but Morgan's rapier thrusts to the head drew blood from his face and almost closed Duane's right eye.

Duane slowed up under the champion's raking fire in the next three rounds and was groggy when he reached his corner in the ninth round. The New York Italian drove Morgan back with a right to the head that drew blood from the champion's lips in the seventh, but for the next two rounds only an occasional shot drifted through Morgan's defense, as he lay on the canvas.

Wallop on Leg Puts Fleet Star on Shelf

Williams or Elliott to Start Against Vandals

Expect Visitors to Uncork Passing Attack

BY BRAVEN DYER

Minus the services of Morton Kaer, brilliant backfield man who is U.S.C.'s outstanding candidate for all-American honors, the Trojans encounter Charles Ebb's Idaho eleven at the Coliseum this afternoon. Kaer, who is suffering from a charley horse on one leg and is extremely unlikely that he will play at all, much less start, is a game at his usual quarterback position.

The fleet Trojan signal caller received a terrific wallop on the thigh in scrimmage Thursday afternoon and could hardly walk from the field. In the evening he had to be carried to his fraternity house, where he was able to hobble around. With the Notre Dame game in the offing, it is improbable that Coach Howard Jones will use Kaer today unless absolutely necessary and if he is not even able to keep his star ball-carrier on the bench.

Don Williams or Howard Elliott will open the game in place of Kaer. Neither is as fast as Kaer, but both are good men and the Trojan offense should be all right as smooth as it is with the hard-hitting Kaer at the helm.

TROJANS FACE BATTLE

After watching Idaho in action Thursday afternoon we are willing to predict that the Trojans have a battle on their hands today. Ebb's men displayed no end of enthusiasm in their work. They have speed and a powerful passing attack. Charles Ebb, who has been a student of the game and has worked out an aerial offense that looks as effective in practice as any thrown against Trojans in actual combat.

There is no denying that U.S.C. has not looked good against the forward pass. The Trojans are doped in some quarters to defeat Stanford by use of an aerial attack, but what actually happened is too recent history to need repeating. Stanford won the game because the Trojans failed in their own passing offense and then forgot to cover the Cards when "Pop" Warner's athletes started lobbing the leather about. Our impression of Idaho's "Babe" Glas, who has been the shining light of the Manual Arts football team all season, punched the Trojans into second place in the City League final standing yesterday, scoring the touchdown which won a hard-fought 6-0 contest from L. A. High. The victory kept the Trojans clean as far as defeats go, but a tie challenge by Lincoln earlier in the season, prevented the Ar-tists from ending in a tie with Poly for league laurels. About 8000 fans witnessed the tilt.

Mechanics Wind Up Season With Goal Line Not Crossed

Everything ran true to form at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon. Coach Voyle Brennan's Polytechnic gridgers defeated Hollywood, 7 to 0, the victory clinching the City League championship for the beauty Mechanics.

Conch Vic Kelley had his foot-hill-fighting mad and they played such a neat defensive battle that they held the Mechanics to a smaller score than most of the prep fans figured. They would, at times though, the Hollywood gridgers became overzealous in their efforts and as a result several yards of penalties were inflicted on them for offense. One twenty-five-yard penalty for holding and a fifteen-yard one for roughing the Poly kicker also hurt the Foothillers' chances of gaining at least a tie with their Blue and Gold rivals.

It might be mentioned here that the Mechanics finished the city season unbeaten and were not scored on in their five games with L. A. High, Lincoln, Jefferson, Franklin and Hollywood. Yesterday the Poly defense was functioning in the same consistent manner and the Foothillers never once got the ball past the Blue and Gold 30-yard line.

SCORES LONE TOUCHDOWN

Poly's lone touchdown came on the first play in the second quarter after a Mechanics march that started in the first period advanced the ball sixty-nine yards down the gridiron. Capt. Ed Griffiths took the ball over for the score from Hollywood's one-yard line and Arden (Pile-Driver) Post place-kicked the extra point.

In the middle of the opening quarter the Mechanics found themselves in possession of the ball on their 21-yard line. Freddy Furtuch then started the Poly drive by kicking the ball over to the Trojans.

EBER COPS OVER RIVERS

"Bad News?" Well slightly. George Rivers is nursing a broken left hand this morning and the losers' end of the Hollywood Legion puer to boot, all because he signed up to fight "Bad News" Eber, a smart boxer from the Windy City, making his initial bow before local fans.

Eber clearly won Referee Frank Hol-borow's decision, but it was George Rivers with his left mitt out of commission from the second round on that made the fight one of the fastest and best seen in the Legion arena for some time. Eber pleased the fans with his initial efforts, when he had Rivers dizzy with a flashy display of left hands to the head. Rivers came back to battle the Chicagoan on even terms and the final two rounds found the two boys swapping punches toe to toe.

"Bad News" won six of the ten rounds, Rivers took the eighth, his cracked hand, and one was even.

Even the best dictionaries conflict a trifle here and there in defining superiority complex, an exalted condition of the mind that may have considerable bearing on the result when Bruin meets Beaver on Moore Field this afternoon. It is the delicate distinction between a confident and a superior attitude that will decide the outcome of the fight.

CORNELL FOOTBALL CAPTAIN MAKES PERFECT KICK SCORE

ITHACA (N. Y.) Nov. 19.—Emerson C. Carey, Jr., captain of the Cornell football squad, has a toe that defies all laws of fallibility. Twenty-three times he has tried to kick the point after touchdown and twenty-two times he has succeeded. In addition he has kicked several field goals, one of which came in the closing minute of play against Dartmouth and clinched a glorious Cornell victory.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT DISPARER, BILL HENRY

THE boys in the northern part of the State are indulging in their annual hunting of deer. It seems that they want the Cardinals to stay in the north and if they must play a post-season game to play St. Mary's, or, if that fails, to schedule a game with some eastern team. Our old college chum Ev Dunlap, late of Cornell, sends us a flock of clippings from the various San Francisco daily handbills in which the boys sure do rub it in to us.

They are getting terribly touchy over the fact that they haven't seen a real football game up north this year. California has been bewitched over everybody in sight and Stanford's only really hard game in the north was against Washington. They want to see the Cards in a real game but, if that can't be done, they don't want the Cards to be down south of the Tehachas again. The chief reason for this attitude is summed up in the bright remark of one of the nits from the Bay Region: "Stanford is too good for Southern California—let's keep them here."

SAMOHU ON TOP

Santa Monica High's fast pigskin chasers copied another victory on the gridiron yesterday afternoon when the Samohu boys downed the Woodrow Wilson High School eleven from Long Beach in a hard-fought game by 10 to 0. Marsh Duffield, the Santa Monica backfield ace, was injured in the first quarter and was unable to finish the game. The Woodrow Wilson team put a tough battle throughout the entire game.

FRESH TEAMS CLASH

As an added attraction the freshmen squads of the two institutions will hook up in a preliminary game that will probably get started at 12:30 o'clock. The Oxy pregameers have not been beaten this year and a victory today will give them the conference championship. Pomona's yearlings lost to the Branch, but showed a lot of power in crushing San Diego State recently and should

KAER OUT OF U.S.C. GAME

(Continued from Eleventh Page) serial game is that it's every bit as good as that employed by the Redskins from Palo Alto. On the other hand, Idaho may not be as smart defensively against Stanford as Stanford was. However, the Vandals record in not allowing Washington State or the Oregon Aggies a touchdown would indicate that the Idaho defense is something to be taken seriously. Both Washington State and the Aggies scored touchdowns on U.S.C., although the latter's score came about as the result of a blocked punt.

IDAHO LINE SQUAD

Idaho's line must be pretty stout to withstand the bull-like rushes of Wes Schulerich, 200-pound Aggie fullback, and the knife-like thrusts of "Butch" Meeker, Washington State dynamo. The forward wall looks capable in practice. Because the players were no pads or socks when we saw them in action, the line appeared a bit light, but the figures given out indicate otherwise. Hutchison and Dewey, tackles, scale at 227 and 185 pounds, respectively, but appear to have lots of speed. Gartin and Brimhall, guards, are 212 and 210 pounds, respectively, and weigh in at 198 and 212 pounds each. Bliss, center, is the heavyweight of the bunch, carrying but 163 pounds. Diehl and Seale, ends, are listed at 190 and 180 pounds, respectively.

EL MONTE COPS

El Monte High's fast football team copied the lightweight grid title in the San Gabriel Valley League yesterday afternoon by defeating "Hobbs Adams" Monrovia squad 18 to 0 at Monrovia. The El Monte aggregation proved to be too fast and powerful a team for the Monrovia players. Fletcher, El Monte's fullback and captain, proved to be the hero of the day by scoring two touchdowns during the play. Wilkinson scored the third touchdown for El Monte in the last period from the 2-yard line after he had placed the ball there in a previous play on a forward pass from Fletcher. The line-up:

Monrovia (6): Scott, 18; McPherson, 17; Finner, 16; Miller, 15; Duffield, 14; Smith, 13; Williams, 12; Miller, 11; Coney, 10; Williams, 9; Miller, 8; Coney, 7; Williams, 6; Miller, 5; Coney, 4; Williams, 3; Miller, 2; Coney, 1.

Capt. Ed Griffiths Scores Solitary Touchdown

Footballers Prove Tougher Than Critics Expect

Hollywood's reserves, double-reverses and fake reverses, featuring Vajar, Buttery and Ellwood on the dashes around the flanks and Wilkins and McKay on the smashes through the line gave the Mechanics considerable trouble, but the Poly line always held when the Footballers penetrated very far in Blue and Gold territory.

"Brownie" Brown, Hollywood's left tackle, Hirsch at guard and Allen Kelly, substitute center, played good ball on the Hollywood line, the former's work being especially notable.

For Poly Farish, Griffiths, Stephens and Fritsch performed creditably. Duke Fritsch did most of the punting for Poly and got off several great booms, one of which was downed by Hirsch on the Hollywood 5-yard line. Hirsch, stationed at end and again instead of in the backfield, played a wonderful game. Aside from doing good defensive work, Hirsch snaggled a couple of passes and on a couple of occasions cleared for twenty-yard gains on end-around plays. Kieffel, Clark, Heiser and Lorey also did good work in the Poly line.

GLENDALE COPS

A snappy passing attack that featured all the members of the backfield, gave Glendale a 14-to-0 victory over Whittier in a varsity football game yesterday. Laveille tallied the first touchdown, accepting a pass and galloping 50 yards. Polis snaggled over in the next quarter after passing the Dynamiters in a scoring position. Line-up:

GARFIELD WINS FIRST CLASS A GRID GAME

Garfield High won its first Class A football game yesterday afternoon when it copied a victory over Fairfax by 6 to 0. The defeat was quite an upset to Fairfax, who were figured as easy winners. The only score of the game was made in the third quarter when Mitch ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

"WHAT PRICE GLORY" BIG

War Feature Captures Its First Audience

Premiere Exceeds Majority in Brilliance

Notable Version of Famed War Play

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Yes—war is fully all that a famous general said it was. There may not be a single word expressing his exact sentiment toward the battlefield of conquest that you can read upon the screen (unless you happen to be a fairly experienced lip reader) in "What Price Glory," which had its world premiere last night at the Carthay Circle Theatre, but there is absolutely no question about the implication of this — and the "is" should really be understood as "is not." It is undoubtedly destined to be a triumphing and far-flung career, albeit the results are not this time for children but for adults uniquely alone.

What the censors may do to this is the staid Middle Western community will tell some gaudy tale. But let that pass for the time being. "What Price Glory" is a picture that is typical of one of the most important of film pictures, and there is nothing in it to equal one of this sort anywhere.

It was an event that drew practically every first-nighter who could possibly obtain a reservation for the occasion. It was one of the most dramatic and stirring of the pictures in all show history here. No production made by the Fox organization, with the exception, possibly, of "The Iron Horse," has had so suspicious an introduction to the public as this. There is no doubt that the interest in "What Price Glory" far surpasses that of the story of the building of the railroad, which attained, of course, the so-called road show proportions.

"What Price Glory," too, is really the accomplishment of an organization, with all due respect to the achievements of its director, Raoul Walsh, and its cast. It is evident that it could not have been brought to its fulfillment without an expenditure that was unusual. For once, in battle scenes the news-reel formula is avoided. The guns that make thunder over the battlefields look this time as if they were part of a pictorial impression that belongs.

"What Price Glory" has furthermore the benefit of a very animated presentation at the Carthay Circle Theatre. The picture moves at an unusually rapid tempo, and culminates with a veritable fireworks celebration, depicting a flash of trench action. Jack Laughlin has really outdone himself in this production, and the dancing numbers, one and all, are outstanding hits, even as Carl Elinor's musical score is among the finest he has ever built around a picture.

For all that "What Price Glory" may portray war in its vivid realism, do not for a moment imagine that it is a picture that reflects the phases of the life of the soldier that he behind the battle front. Indeed, its

LAURA INVADERS RUSSIA

It's a cruel, hard world on blond, wide-eyed ingenues. Something really should be done about it.

Laura La Plante, the star of "The Midnight Sun," is a young girl who has a pretty bad time of it. No less than three gentlemen pursue her through the maze of plot. In fact it has been a long, long time since there has been so much dirty work at the crossroads in screen entertainment. "The Midnight Sun" starts out to be what the studio press agents fondly herald as a "topical" picture, but the director and cast found out what it was all about very soon. The picture is a story of a young American girl who has become the mistress of a Russian nobleman. Her lover is a grand duke, a banker, and a beautiful profile. Just one more as to which of the trio she is the girl. But underneath all the Russian grand duke, she is a girl who is seen her lover, the duke, called out to a battle to rescue her. Such a girl is engaged to the duke, but she is putting up a corking good battle in defense of her virtue, especially when all the grand emphases on this is its life as a production, and the humor both of the picture and the story are of the great bulk of the picture, which is remarkably good, is what is going to win the popular audience. There are a few outstanding triumphs in the matter of characterization that goes without saying. The picture of Victor McLaglen as Capt. Flagg, undoubtedly overshadows the others in many ways, but it is not the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture.

The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture. The picture of the picture is the picture of the picture.

"TIN HATS" IS A.E.F. LAUGH CLEAN-UP

By Herbert Brennon
If there was any tragedy in the World War you'd have to look outside of the films to find it. As far as they're concerned nowadays, the theater of hostilities in 1917-18 was just a comic opera.

The lighter side, as originally revealed in "Behind the Front," and more lately in "The Better O'War," is effectively brought out in "Tin Hats," which opened yesterday at Loew's. Like some of the others, this Edward Sedgwick production unearths a vast amount of high-explosive humor in relating the adventures of a little band of Americans in France. Under the aegis of the cross there are miniature cyclones of mirth.

The familiar trio of characters are back again. The leader is one of the brightest spots of "The Big Parade," and now it is effectively used in "Tin Hats." Here our three heroes are Conrad Nagel, George Cooper and Bert Roach and the bulk of the humor lies in their association together. Roach plays a German lad from St. Louis; fat, ungainly, and none too nimble above the ears, he is continually picked on by his two buddies.

Their scene in the French photographer's shop is one of the funniest in the picture. The arrival in the German village, too, where they are mistaken for the Army of Occupation and fed accordingly, is a riot. Nagel's visit to the castle, where the German noblewoman of his fancy lives, is another bright spot of mirth.

These are the highlights, but there is no dearth of comedy between them. Their adventures in looking for their army, which they have "lost," comprise the principal part of the picture. Sedgwick has made an excellent comedy from a story of his own creation. There isn't a dull spot anywhere.

Roach's picture title adds immeasurably to the enjoyment; the tendency to wince-crack is still evident, but it is "piled" into the only unforgivable or appears during the scene in the photo-graph shop, when Roach is posing for his picture with a string of prop muscles on his chest. It was a lovely place to say "Cut Price Glory," but everybody seemed to feel a bit sheepish about laughing.

The soldier trio are immense. Roach and Cooper give unusually fine performances, and Nagel, who must count himself somewhat because he is the hero, is a creditable figure. Claire Windsor plays the German heroine effectively, but the chief honors among the feminine players must go to Helen Delaney. She plays the little French girl who has a crush on Cooper and she makes the bit one of the outstanding things in the picture.

Tom O'Brien is commendable in his brief bit as the hard-boiled sergeant. "A sergeant so hard that he wasn't born," he was quipped. The one flaw in the production is the horribly poor photography in many of the scenes. This may have been a bad print, but whatever the cause, it creates the impression that the projection of the machine is being lighted with a candle.

Fanchon and Marco's "Yachting" has its interesting phases, but the act is far too long. The California Beauties are attractive and clever in their solo and ensemble numbers. The feature of the act is the team of Murray and Levere, late of "Money Business." They were repeatedly encored yesterday. Dave Good wields the baton and sings several numbers. Mal Goodell, the world's champion oarsman, stages a sculling match on the stage.

REVERLY HILLS—REVERLY HILLS—

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint smudges, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page shows the binding of the book, with some visible stitching or glue. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.
